Many Warnings As to What Might Occur Have Been Given by the Leaders of the Revolution.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The events of the last few days culminating Monday in the meeting of the heads of various German states at Berlin, have indicated that with the exception of the numerically unimportant Spartacus group, there is complete agreement in Germany that a national assembly must be held.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—(via Copenhagen).—The German federal conference has accepted the following resolutions: "There is absolute necessity for all German tribes to act in union for the maintenance of Germany's unity and to fight all the separatist movements, and to take part in a speedy summoning of the national assembly meets general approval."

Until meeting of the national assembly, the soldiers and workers' councils will represent the people's will.

COMMUNITY SERVICE THURSDAY EVENING

PLANS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED FOR COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING SERVICE TO BE HELD AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

REV. LEWIS TO SPEAK

Will Give Address Of Evening. Several Musical Numbers On The Program. All Urged To Attend

Janesville people will assemble at the Congregational church on Thursday evening to participate in a community Thanksgiving service. Every person in this community is urged to attend the services and the parents of the brave boys who are with the colors are especially urged to attend.

COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Janesville this year has special cause to be grateful and to hail Thanksgiving Day with an intense joy. Victory has brought to Janesville not peace alone, but an abiding prosperity.

Our troops have gained immortal glory on the field of battle—America's part in the war has been notable.

America, of all countries engaged in the mighty struggle, is the least harmed. Thanksgiving Day, 1918, should be commemorated by all people in humble reverence and thanksgiving to God for his deliverance and agency and to invoke his aid in the work we have to do.

Janesville cannot more fittingly celebrate the day than by joining in a community Thanksgiving service. We therefore urge all the people of Janesville to take part in such a service.

OVER THE TOP DRIVE OPENS ON THURSDAY

Campaign For Sale of War Savings Stamps Will Open In This City On Thanksgiving.

The "Over the Top" drive in Janesville for war savings stamps starts Thanksgiving day at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Since December 1, 1917 to the present day Janesville and the territories served from the Janesville post-office have absorbed $280,000 worth of U. S. and Thrift stamps. The quota of this territory is $400,000. Therefore unless Janesville falls behind, unless Janesville falls as she has not failed in any war work, then she will of course do so without any solicitation before the end of December.

To accomplish this every man, woman and child must purchase to his limit. Those who have pledged and not fulfilled the pledge must fulfill it and purchase again; those who have purchased heretofore but not to the maximum amount must replace and purchase again.

An organization is about perfected to secure new pledges such as has not gone out before in any work. Those who have not fulfilled their pledges will be urged to do so without any solicitation at the earliest possible moment.

One hundred women in the city of Janesville, under the leadership of Mrs. J. A. Ford are to devote sometime each day during the ten days of the campaign to the work. One hundred leading business men in the city of Janesville will devote some time every day to this campaign, under the leadership of the Hon. M. C. Jeffris, county chairman.

The courts of the city, under the chairmanship of Judge H. L. Mayfield will contribute to the success of the campaign.

The theaters of the city have offered their services in every way possible to the committee for the success of the campaign.

The bankers of the city under the chairmanship of Mr. A. E. Bingham will lend their assistance in every way possible.

Hundreds of menu cards at the hotels and restaurants will flaunt the war savings slogans.

Through the courtesy of the Janesville Electric Company exterior and interior war savings decorations will be lighted and displays made.

Every fraternal organization of the city will have its representative on the central fraternal committee, through whose efforts it is expected that the sentiment of brotherhood will be crystallized in behalf of the government's war savings effort.

It is the hope of this central committee that a house to house canvass will not be necessary to put Janesville "Over the Top," but if it is necessary before the end of the time this Boy Scout organizations, the schools and flying squads of young ladies as well as young men will be formed to complete the canvass.

The later carriers, both city and rural, will be walking post offices for supplying war savings and thrift stamps. The public is urged to send their pledges even through the carriers or leave the mat the banks or at the post office, and to request the carriers, or leave the matter with the banks, or carriers of the office war savings and thrift stamps in such quantities as desired.

A recuperative diet in influenza. Horlick's Malted Milk, very digestible.

LIBERTY BONDS LOST OR STOLEN.

A printed list of liberty bonds reported lost or stolen during October is posted upon the bulletin board at the post office. In the event that any of the bonds mentioned in the list should be presented, or any information relative to their recovery, the public is urged to report that fact. The number of liberty bonds lost or stolen during one month appears from this printed list to be very large.

The owner of liberty bonds should keep separate from the bonds themselves the number of each bond. Unless the owner has a safe deposit vault, or an equally safe place for keeping his bonds, it is the part of wisdom that he should have his or her bonds registered. It is about as unsafe to keep government bonds in the home or about the person as it is to keep paper money of like amounts.

If the bonds are registered then they will not be excepted to the owner or to his or her legal representative. The government advises a registration generally of its bonds.

PEACE CONFERENCE WILL MAKE CHANGES IN AFRICA'S MAP

How Africa was divided up among European powers before the war.

Sentiment in allied countries being solidly opposed to the retention by Germany of her colonies, it is likely that some important changes in the map of Africa will be made at the peace conference. German African possessions now include German East Africa, German Southwest Africa, Kamerun and Togo land. England and France own the choicest parts of the continent and may divide up the German holdings. Belgium, Spain, Portugal and Italy also have African colonies.

The area of Africa was estimated in 1904 at about 11,600,000 square miles, inclusive of islands, and the population at about 140,000,000. The only free states are Liberia and Abyssinia, having a population respectively of 1,800,000 and 8,000,000.

We Are Thankful

This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice. Thankful that our generation has been committed to the splendid cause of "making the world safe for democracy. Everyone is overjoyed that right has triumphed over might and that the God of love and justice still rules. A new day shines above us, take new courage and look forward with new hope and to new and greater duties. Gratitude, humility and courage seems to be the key words for this Thanksgiving.

As merchants we are extremely thankful that we have so large a share in the distribution of those things which form the vital and daily needs of our people and fully realize that the magnificent volume of business which has passed through our doors during the last twelve months has been possible only by the continued good will of the people of Southern Wisconsin.

STRASBOURG HELD BIG DEMONSTRATION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Strasbourg, Nov. 27.—The inhabitants of Strasbourg did not wait until the French troops arrived to manifest their relief over the withdrawal of the Germans. On the night of November 20-21, eight hundred students went to the Kaiserplatz, where they pulled down the statue of Emperor William I, and carried part of it to the foot of the statue of Kleber, a noted French general who was killed in the battle of the Marston. The statue of William I, in front of the postoffice, were decapitated by another group of students.

MRS. ELPHIA DAVIS AROUSES JUDGE'S IRE

Given Severe Reprimand by Judge Maxfield When She Claims She Can't Understand Him.

Mrs. Elphia Davis recently found guilty of assault and battery in the municipal court aroused the ire of Judge Maxfield this morning when she stated that she couldn't understand the judge. Mrs. Davis was in court to be sentenced for the charge convicted on but had her case adjourned until December 9th at ten o'clock.

When her case was called this morning she came up smiling, but she was far from smiling when Judge Maxfield finished his little talk. Since being convicted Judge Maxfield learned that several complaints have been made to the police in regard to Mrs. Davis' conduct. She stoutly denied any misconduct and when questioned in regard to parties held at her home she declared that she was away when the parties were held.

When asked a question she told Judge Maxfield she couldn't understand him and that started the judge on his severe reprimand. He told Mrs. Davis that she was evidently trying to evade answering his questions by claiming she couldn't understand.

He then told her in plain English language that she was just as near being in jail at that moment as she possibly could be without the cell door being shut on her. This statement had a great effect on Mrs. Davis and she immediately changed her attitude.

It was also stated that a man roomer at her home threatened to beat up the complaining witness. She asked regarding this but stated that no intimation of it had been given her. In speaking of the parties at her home in which several young men were present with local young ladies, she claimed that one of the ladies brought the people to her house and broke the lock off of her door and staged the party while she was absent. She admitted however, that she had arrived home before the party had broken up.

Mrs. Davis was found guilty in the court about a week ago of assault and battery on a complaint of Mrs. Anna Knipke.

FOUR DRUNKS FINED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Three Came From Dry Towns To Quench Their Thirst And One Hailed From Janesville.

Ever since the first of July, when several surrounding towns voted dry, the number of drunks arraigned in municipal court has shown that about one out of every four sons from Janesville. It held true this morning when out of the four inebriates brought before Judge Maxfield only one claimed Janesville as his home.

James Parnell of Rockford, evidently heard of the stiff sentences imposed on dry town drinkers because he used every means possible to evade the question of where he was from. He told the judge in a very round about way that his home was in Rockford and he assured Judge Maxfield that if he was let off he would never come to Janesville again. He was fined seven dollars and costs or ten days.

Then came John Benson of the Post Lake Ordnance Company at Madison. John claimed that he had been working for the past fifty years drawing good money and had sixty dollars in the bank. He also had one fifty dollar Liberty Bond. His idea of economy was very limited and he really thought that he had done a great deal by having a fifty dollar bond and saving sixty-five dollars in fifty years. Some saver?

Frank McKewon of Janesville drew ten days flat in the county jail. He told the judge he preferred to pay a fine but the judge couldn't see it that way.

Joe Laughlin was requested to contribute ten dollars and costs to the municipal court fund or be a visitor of Sheriff Whipple's for the next ten days. Poor Joe was unfortunate, he can't stand very much liquor and after having a few drinks yesterday he became intoxicated. This is the story told by the defendant but he was also unfortunate when the story didn't impress Judge Maxfield.

CHURCH LEAGUE WILL START BOWLING AGAIN

Reorganization of the Church Bowling league will be started tonight when delegates from churches meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans and appoint a committee.

When the league finished the season last year the bowling church was represented by Baptist, Presbyterian, Congregational, St. Paul's Lutheran and First Christian. It is believed all these will have representatives at tonight's meeting. It is desired that one or two others join the league. It is probable that the league will start rolling next week.

One of the greatest problems before the American people in peace times is to learn to speak French so our French visitors can understand a word here and there.

Nat Goodwin was marooned in Kansas City during the epidemic. All the marriageable young ladies were kept closely at home by their parents, however, and so far as has been reported, there was no casualty list.

A minister of our acquaintance says he preaches Sunday mornings and lectures Sunday evenings. In the morning the attendance is about 200 and in the evening it is about 1,000.

The conductor of this column got one vote for assemblyman out in the district where he lives, said vote having been cast by his personal Ameri-

our faithful constituency that we are not discouraged but will try it again next time.

Now they are reporting army marriages as "Cupid's Casualty List."

Not always. There were times when mother was cross, or was in a hurry to get started on the dressmaking or was nothing doing in the flapjack line was one whole winter, we remember, nobody in the family could get more than twenty-four at one sitting.

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT "HIGH" TODAY

Pupils of High School Give Thanksgiving Program This Afternoon.
Dougherty Speaks.

A most interesting Thanksgiving program was presented before the high school pupils this afternoon. The classes in the afternoon were shortened and the period devoted to the program. An orchestra composed of high school people furnished music, and Miss Manilla Powers gave several selections which were well received. Miss Evelyn Welch also gave several declamations pertaining to Thanksgiving and was well applauded by the school. As the speaker of the afternoon, William Dougherty told the pupils and teachers how much this year we had to be thankful for. He said never in all the history of America could more real genuine thanks to God be given than this year, when our armies have been victorious. The program closed with a selection from the orchestra, after which the school was dismissed until Monday.

HELD LAST EVENING.

A recital for the benefit of the student nurses fund was held at the library Tuesday evening. A most interesting program was given. Miss Marion H. Johnson of Rockford gave the first number, an impromptu by Blumenfeld. She won the admiration of her audience in the beautiful, sympathetic tone which she produced, and her accompaniments later showed a wonderful musical temperament. Enrico Maugli, a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York, sang several selections.
His big baritone voice is a wonderfully trained organ, but it is his diction which is so perfect, and technical difficulties seemed not to exist for the artist. He gave "The End of a Perfect Day" as one of his encores.
He has been in training at Camp
Grant in the officers' training camp, but expects to be released soon, when he will go to New York to fill his engagements with the opera company.
Mrs. Maud Bolman of Milwaukee, a well known artist in the west, gave several selections. She is possessed of a beautiful lyric-dramatic voice of power and flexibility. Her rendition of "The Americans Come," by Fay Foster, showed with her finished are a musicianship of the highest order;
and her group of children's songs were much enjoyed. Sergeant Frank Bendon of the infirmary division at Camp Grant whistled himself into the hearts of the audience. He surely has had a wonderful talent given him, and the charm of his bird-like tones appealed to everyone. His reproduction of the meadow lark robin, whippoorwill, peewee, chickadee, etc., while and his mate, and his rendition of the "mocking bird" were delightful. Mrs.
Arthur Harris and Mrs. Frank Van-Kirk, who had the concert in charge to raise money for the student nurses fund, are to be congratulated on the success of the evening. About $60 was raised for the fund.

FIVE FRIDAYS

By FRANK R. ADAMS

Miss Dunmore came downstairs in a dress of Lucile's, or, rather a blouse and skirt of the sailor suit order. She seemed very little ruffled by her adventure on the high seas.

"Where is Miss Green?" she asked, looking around. "I want to thank her for her kindness."

"She is out searching for her mother." That sounded like a foolish statement, so I qualified it. "Her mother disappeared last night during the storm."

"Oh!" Miss Dunmore did not seem particularly impressed. "I don't see how any one could get lost on a little island like this."

"That's where the mystery comes in. There are only about half a dozen places she could be, and we've looked in all of them."

"I had a brother who walked in his sleep," said Captain Perkins, following up a train of thought suggested by Mrs. Green's disappearance. "Do you want to hear the story about the funny place where the zebra bit him?"

"A little later," I suggested hastily. "Just now we all ought to scatter and help look for Mrs. Green."

"How was she dressed?" Captain Perkins inquired.

"I don't know. I'm not sure whether she was dressed at all or not—that is, she probably had on a kimono or something, but I don't think she had on regular skirts and things."

"We might take a stroll along the beach," suggested Jim, whom I suspected of wanting to display his striped clothing in public. "Possibly we might find something we could eat."

After the captain and Jim had started out Miss Dunmore seemed lost in deep and bewildered thought. I forbore to break in on so portentous a brain struggle.

At last she spoke. "Where do you suppose the zebra did bite Captain Perkins' brother?"

"If you go with him perhaps he will tell you," I said, with an idea of doing my searching alone with a weather ere constantly peeled for Lucile and Bopp.

"No," she demurred. "I would much rather go hunting with you. It will be more fun."

Evidently she thought that hunting out ladies in the underbrush was one of our innocent island pastimes.

I sighed. We sallied forth. If I had wanted to run around Lucile when I was alone I was just as anxious to avoid her while I was in the company of Miss Dunmore.

"Do we have to find her before

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for cod liver oil.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. 6-10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Thought His Time Had Come—Disappointed

"I never was more surprised in my life than when I took the first dose of May's Wonderful Remedy. My stomach trouble had been of eight years' standing, sometimes so bad as to cause convulsions, followed by hemorrhage. I thought my time in this world was short, and believed it the last medicine I would ever take. It is now eight weeks since, and I am feeling better than for many years. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. E. Baker, Druggist."

Delicate Children Vinol is What They Need

More than eight thousand druggists recommend Vinol because it contains in deliciously palatable form the oldest and most famous reconstructive tonics known to medicine. During the last sixteen years it has brought health and happiness to thousands of puny, ailing, anaemic children.

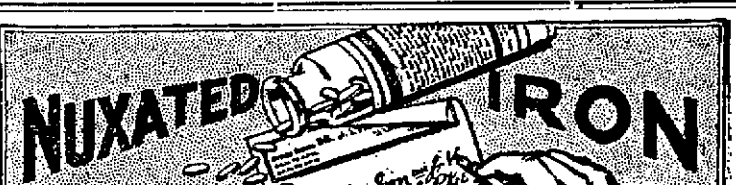

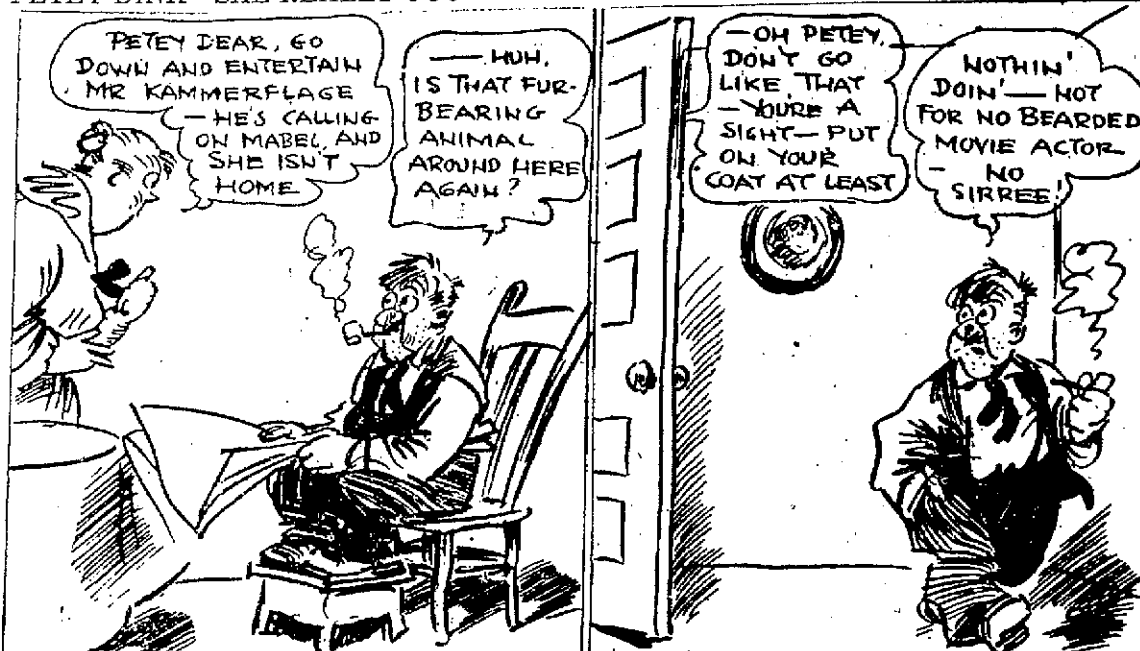

HERE IS PROOF

Middletown, Conn. "I used Vinol for my little girl five years old for a rundown, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

Vinol Creates Strength
Smith Drug Co. Vinol is sold in Broadway by W. J. Smith, and druggists everywhere.

PETEY DINK—SHE REALLY OUGHT TO HAVE TIPPED PETEY OFF

"To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, New York. "Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, formerly Secretary of the Treasury and ex-Governor of Iowa, former United States Senator and Vice-Presidential nominee, Charles A. Towne; General John L. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh, who was sergeant of the United States Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims at Washington, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere."

aimed with poisoned darts?

"Oh, you've read his play?"

"No, but I know just what ought to be in every castaway story. This island that we are on, you see, is quite different. Nothing more nourishing than spruce gum ever grows here, and there isn't a native with a poisoned dart within a thousand miles unless you count Lucile."

"What do you mean by that?"

I did not answer. An idea had germinated from something she had said. There was a natural food resource on the island. I might be able to develop it quietly by myself and then if it was successful, center it as a boon on the entire community.

When we were about two-thirds of the way around the island a stinging pair of raindrops drove us to shelter. There was a small lattice summer house overlooking the lake near by, and we hastened toward it. In our path was a shallow strip of water left by the waves of the night before and augmented by the rain. Vida looked in dismay at the muddy water.

"I never can cross it!" she wailed. "These are Miss Green's shoes, and I must not ruin them."

"We've got to get under cover," I argued.

"You could carry me across," she suggested practically—"that is, if you can lift me."

"I carried you farther than that this morning."

"Were you the brave man who risked his life for me?" she exclaimed impulsively, then added with naive conceit: "I know Ned can never thank you enough. Just pick me up in your big strong arms and put me down the minute we get across."

So she gathered her skirts carefully about her, and I picked her up easily and splashed through the puddle. I carried her into the summer house. Lucile and Bopp were there. I stood a moment in stupefied silence and then put Vida down.

"It started to rain," I stammered, "and we had to hunt up shelter. Miss Dunmore was so afraid of spoiling your clothes."

"That's all right," said Lucile sweetly. "I don't mind their being wrinkled a bit. I'm going to have that suit pressed anyway."

Floundering in the net of a woman's sarcasm, I was utterly at a loss for an answer.

CHAPTER IX.

Engaged, If—

"I DON'T believe you have met Mr. Bopp yet," said Lucile to Vida as the girl gained her breath.

"I don't think you were not conscious when you first saw each other."

"What name did you say?"

"Mr. Bopp, my fiancé."

"Your fiancé?" I ejaculated.

"Yes," Lucile turned to me. "I wanted to tell you two the first ones. I knew you would appreciate our happiness."

My mind refused to grasp this disaster. I had never seriously considered Bopp as running even a very dangerous second.

"My mind puzzling over Lucile's statement, I heard Vida's clear soft voice saying, 'Mr. Bopp, I am pleased—why, aren't you called Boppy?'"

"Boppy?" repeated Lucile curiously. "Yes, don't you call him that? All the girls in the 'Show Girl' company did. I was in the chorus then. We used to regard him as almost one of the company, he was around with us so much. We had a good time that season," she added reflectively.

Lucile murmured, "I should imagine so."

"I know you will be happy," Vida was saying. "I've been engaged a good many times and I enjoy it more every time."

"You must be ferriberly tired, Monty," I heard Lucile say; "no sleep for thirty-six hours and no food for three days. I wish that there were something that I could do for you."

I listened in amazement. Could this be Lucile, and was she addressing me? She was. I puzzled over the gentleness in her tones and the solicitude she was showing for my welfare. I did not hit upon the answer then, but I have since.

After awhile the rain let up, and we went back to the house to see what the others might have discerned and lay a plan of campaign. Vida suggested that she take on Mr. Clair for a walk. I told her that he was a woman biter and thus inadvertently aroused her interest.

"I'll have to make him change his ideas," she looked up at me innocently. "Do you think I can do it?"

"Ask him," I suggested.

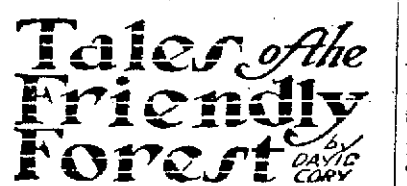

"Meaning that you don't think I can. I'll bet my seal ring against yours that I can make him propose before dark. Mine is a very curious one too. A Russian duke gave it to me. I never met him, but he sent it to my dressing room with some flowers."

It seemed to me to be a possible way to gain a little solitude for reflection, and I assented to the wager.

"You don't intend to tell him, then, that you are engaged already?"

"Oh, no, not until he proposes. Of course I might like him better than I do Ned. Then I'd never tell him."

You remember in the last story that Uncle Lucky and Billy Bunny met little fat Danny Meadow. The two little rabbits were on foot, because the Sledmobile had a bad cold and was stuck at her garage. But Uncle Lucky didn't mind it a bit. It was clear-cold weather and the

Rheumatism Back on the Job With Its Old-time Fury

No Let-up in Its Torture

Pretty soon you will be reaching for the liniment bottle again, for the millions of little pain demons that cause Rheumatism are on the warpath. Winter weather seems to awaken them to renewed fury.

But your Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away, because liniments and lotions cannot reach the disease. It is in the blood, and only a remedy that goes deep down in to the circulation, and routs out the disease germs, can rid you of this disabling disease.

S. S. S. has given some wonderful results in treating Rheumatism. Being a purely vegetable blood purifier, it purifies the blood of every germ, and thus removes the cause of Rheumatism. Get a bottle today at your druggist, and start on the right treatment this week. Get results. Free advice about your case can be had by writing to Medical Director, 26 South Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Nov. 27, 1878.—The boys at the jail would have turkey tomorrow, but they will have a fine spread of chicken, and the feast will end with three kinds of pie. Think of it. The tramps who are smart enough ought to arrange to get "run in" for the day and get filled up.

The Janesville Guards today received their $300 from the state for the year ending Nov. 1.

J. W. Mathews, an old resident of the town of Newark, met with a serious accident on Monday afternoon. He was engaged in sinking a large stone in a field by digging away the dirt so that it would fall in, and while thus engaged the stone rolled into the hole, catching him and badly crushing one of his legs. The stone weighed about two tons and held him so tightly that he could not move. His son happened to think he would go over and see how his father was getting along with his work. He found him in this perilous position and went off for assistance at once. The work of releasing the crushed man was very slow and before he could be excused he became unconscious. The lower part of Mr. Mathews' leg was badly crushed, one bone sticking several inches through.

NO SATURDAY GAME; PLAY FRIDAY INSTEAD

On account of the Older Boys' conference at Madison Saturday the Beloit-Janesville football game has been changed to Friday afternoon instead of Saturday as originally planned. This change will allow several members of the team to complete their plans and attend the game. Not only will the blue team take down one full first team, but they will also take a second team, so that two games will be played. The boys are working strenuously every night in preparation and if they are not in the best of form it is certainly not their fault. Decker, who played on the team early in the season but who was injured, is again back on the squad.

One of the largest crowds which ever attended a Beloit-Janesville football game in years will accompany the squad. The main topic of interest in the school just at present is the game, and all are hoping for a victory.

MORRIS MILLER

Silk O'Loughlin was in a hurry. He had only a few moments left to get ready for a certain White Sox-Senator game at Washington some evening. A colored man stopped him at the door to his dressing room. O'Loughlin tried to brush past, but the stranger was insistent. "Just a moment, boss," said the man. "I have a pitcher's glove here I've invented and want to have you see what you think of it." He removed a box from under his arm and started to open it. O'Loughlin's curiosity got the better of him. He called to Joe Benz, who was passing in uniform on his way to the Sox bench. "Come here a moment, will you, Joe?" asked O'Loughlin. "Let's have a look at this fellow's pitching glove."

The box was opened and an ordinary finger glove was exposed to view. There was one difference—a small looking glass an inch wide and two inches long was adjusted to the back of the thumb. "What's the glass for?" inquired Benz.

The stranger put on the glove and assumed a pitching posture. The gloved hand covered his throwing mitt. "See there," he announced proudly, "when you hold the glove that way you can watch the runner at second base without looking around."

As far as was known there was only a very faint prospect of any of the other players in service going to the battle front within a limited space of time, except possibly in the case of Eddie Sicking, who was inducted near the close of the baseball season and sent to Camp Sherman. Al Baird, who enlisted in the naval reserve force last winter, has been at Norfolk ever since. Shortly after his arrival at that station he rendered valuable aid as an athletic instructor in the training of recruits, and later, when he sought a transfer to the naval aviation service, it was refused on the ground that he was more valuable in his capacity as mentor of the jacksies at play. George Kelly, who is a mechanic at Kelly Field, the aviation camp near San Antonio, did not figure on going overseas.

Rosa Young, who became of age last month, entered an officers' training camp upon attaining his majority, but it is expected that he will exercise his right to resign now that hostilities are over. Dave Robertson is in the department of justice as an investigator, but as most of his work consisted of apprehending slackers and violators of the liquor laws in their application to the sale of alcohol beverages to soldiers and sailors, it would seem that he can now resign his post and return to baseball.

Kauff reported at Camp Sherman last summer was given a fifteen-day furlough after he had been at the cantonment for about a month, and returned to settle down to the intensive training which was to fit him for service overseas. At last reports he was a member of the provost guard at the Ohio cantonment and expected to sail in the near future. Benton, who is at Camp Jackson, and Barnes at Camp Funston, counted upon being in France before December. Anderson, who is a dentist, was fitting himself for a commission in the dental corps at Camp Wadsworth when the cry for peace came from Germany.

The plan of the war department to demobilize the troops now stationed at cantonments in this country without delay undoubtedly will meet with the approval of Giant fans, for under this plan these Giants now in uniform will be released in time to report to John McGraw for the 1919 season. Oddly enough, of all the Giants who entered the service, none, so far as the New York club is aware, has gone overseas. So writes a New York sport scribbler.

"And when does the wedding take place, Miss Blank?" asked the genial proprietor of the little stationery shop. "The wedding!" exclaimed the young woman, blushing. "Why, you don't think—"

"At Miss Blank!" rejoined the old bookseller. "When a young lady buys a hundred sheets of paper and only twenty-five envelopes I know there's something in the wind!"

Her second husband had been buried during the afternoon, and as the dewy shades of evening were gathering over the landscape she sat by the open window waiting and watching the shadows deepen into night.

"What are you watching?" asked a sympathetic neighbor. "I am waiting," said the weeping widow, "for the cats to begin fighting in the back yard. This thing of going to sleep without a quarrel is so new, so unsual, it is too hard to bear. Leave me alone with my grief to gaze on the ever-changing wonders of the starlit skies, and when the cats begin I'll doze off gently."

Negro troops from Louisiana have a linguistic advantage over other American soldiers. Many of them, through living in sections where French still is spoken, are more or less familiar with the language of this land when they get home. But they have their difficulties, nevertheless.

"It's dis way," explains one. "Ah talk French perfectly, but not de kind dey talk in dis country. You see, Ah learned French from mah fathah—de pure, classical, ole New Orleans French—and dey don't speak dat kind o'v de heah."

Celebrates Birthday.

CALEDONIA.—Henry Roethe, Sr., known as the "grand old man," recently celebrated his 90th birthday. He was sent to the Wisconsin assembly from Milwaukee county just fifty years ago on his birthday. He is the uncle of the present senator, H. E. Roethe, who achieved fame years ago by walking from his home in Grant county to Madison, about 70 miles, to take his seat in the legislature. It brought him the sobriquet of "the legomobile legislator." Mr. Roethe, Sr., has six grandsons in the army.

Another Dam Erected.

KAUKAUNA.—Hindrances to development of water power here through erection of another dam have been decreased by raising the old Fox river pulp mill. The mill was built 35 years ago. The proposed dam will place Kaukauna at the head of the largest water power dam in the 25 mile stretch of the river between Neenah and Green Bay. The fall in the river for that distance is as great as Niagara Falls, 8 per cent being in the nine-mile stretch between the dam at Appleton and the foot of the Grand Kaukauna falls, with a fall of 51 feet.

Good News from Washington

Part of "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco Released to Civilians at Home to "Roll Their Own"

- With the little muslin sack of "BULL" DURHAM in the pockets of every one of our fighting men on land and sea—
- With good old "Bull" in the regular Army rations—
- And with the future demands of the War Department abundantly cared for, part of "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco is offered again to the men at home who "roll their own".

And to these men we want to say, that in giving up so freely all your "Bull," when your Country asked for it for its fighting men, you did a human "bit." However small that little muslin sack may seem, you may have the satisfaction of knowing that your sack of "Bull" was meat and drink to some boy waiting or fighting at the front, and that your supply of "Bull" helped to make the distribution to our forces full and complete, and make it quickly. Now that Washington assures us that such distribution is a fact, you will welcome the "Makings" home again.

And with greater satisfaction and more pleasure than ever, you will, we know, with your own hands, roll a cigarette again for yourself—a cigarette machines can't imitate—the mildest, the most fragrant, the most economical cigarette in the world.

Are we wrong in thinking that you will be as proud as we are of your little muslin sack of "Bull"?

DOCTOR ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE

Run Down and Lungs Hurt—Stayed Home and Gained 22 Pounds.

"In November, 1911, I had a severe cold and a gripe, which left me with a bad cough. My lungs and shoulder blades hurt so I couldn't sleep and I finally had to give up my job as street car motorman. My physician told me to change climate. In April, 1912, I began taking Milks Emulsion. On the second bottle I could see a change. My appetite was better and I commenced to gain strength and weight. Now (August 23, 1912) I have used 23 bottles, have increased 22 pounds in weight and believe I am permanently cured."—W. P. Bouland, Route 5 Wolf City, Texas.

Mr. Bouland was fortunate in commencing to use Milks Emulsion while his case was in an incipient form. Even in many advanced cases Milks Emulsion has wrought wonders. It costs nothing to try—it is guaranteed. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy natural bowel action, doing away with all nervousness and phlegm. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food as builder of flesh and strength. Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee. Take six bottles home with you use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be refunded. Price 60c and $1.25 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by J. F. Baker.

Suffers Painful Injury.
Evansville, Nov. 27.—While helping Lloyd Hubbard chop wood on the Marvin Patterson farm, north of this city, Sam Ludwig was injured Monday when the ax flew off the handle and struck Mr. Ludwig's foot. It cut on part of the ankle bone and a severe gash across the instep, about five and one-half inches long, almost severing the foot from the leg. Dr. F. E. Colony was called and administered medical care. The injured man is resting as comfortably as is possible. Mr. Ludwig's home is in Monroe and he is a brother of Mrs. Goltz who lives near Evansville and to whose home he was taken.

Edgerton News

Hear Committee Report.
Edgerton, Nov. 27.—A mass meeting was held at the high school last evening to receive the report of the committee appointed last spring at a public meeting.

The report was to the effect that they had found that considerable factionalism existed in the city and that it was hoped all interested in the welfare of the city could affiliate in a one organization to work for the best interests of the city. The opinion of the committee Edgerton was too small for two organizations. The report further showed that the Edgerton Civic Association had changed its name to the Chamber of Commerce and was operating under a set of by-laws drawn up with the help of the joint committee, that the by-laws were broad and comprehensive and could readily be subscribed to by everyone. The committee were 100 per cent for this part toward furthering the interests of Edgerton.

F. O. Holt, chairman of the committee presided at the meeting.

The Order of Eastern Stars celebrated past worthy matron's night last evening and tendered Mrs. H. Ash a reception in honor of her election to the office of most worthy grand matron, the highest office in the state. Grand lodge members were present. A program was given and the work was completed by the past worthy matrons. After the reception a banquet was given at which about 150 were present. Mrs. Ash was presented with a beautiful silver dish by members of the order.

Personals.
John Cruise of Spirit Lake, Ia., spent a portion of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Spike.

Thomas Lind of Stoughton who was en route from Janesville to his home at Stoughton got off the train last evening one station too soon and got in wrong with Night Officer Campbell, with the result that he appeared in justice court this morning. From the court reports of Janesville it appears that this is cheaper to be arrested in Edgerton than the county seat as Lind drew a fine of $7 and costs in the local court.

The Thanksgiving service at the Norwegian Lutheran church will be held at 10:30 a. m., a half hour earlier than the usual hour.

W. P. Guttery of Janesville was a business caller in the city last evening.

HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Mr. Victor P. Biscaglia.
First American Expeditionary Forces
15th Co., 6th M. (I. B.) S. Marines
Am. B. P. France, Oct. 12, 1918.
Just came out of another drive and am O. K., unharmed, but certainly the powers that watch over his has in this drive was the most terrible I ever hope to be in. For several days we battled in dense woods under enemy artillery and machine gun fire. The fighting is so savage that I know peace cannot be many months away. It is beyond human endurance for the Hun to stand up against our assaults much longer.
Hector was O. K. several weeks ago but has been in battle since and I do not know how he came out.
Do not worry about us—just like a pair of dice cast across a table—we may roll winners—maybe losers—it is up to the Gods of War when they play the roll that every onslaught against the Hun demands.

Evansville Soldiers.
Evansville, Wis.—Sunday's mail brought many letters to parents from their boys who have been and were in service in France. The following are extracts from a letter written by Willis Decker to his father:

Embarkation Hospital,
Camp Stuart,
Newport News, Va.,
Nov. 22, 1918.
I expect you will be surprised to hear that I am back in the states and it sure is a great place after all. We landed last night and are in a hospital in Newport News, Va. We expect to be transferred to another hospital in a few days but I don't know where it will be. I hope it will be Chicago or Milwaukee. I think I have another operation coming as my leg is in very poor condition. I am still walking with crutches and have no use of my leg at all.

We left Brest, France on the 11th and had a fine trip, all but two days when we somehow got mixed up with a bad storm. For a time the engines were not running and we were tossed about like rubber balls, and when they did start the engines it was impossible to make any headway until the storm let up. It did not take me long to decide that I would never be a sailor, but at that I was not the least bit sick. I have not heard from any of the boys in my company so I don't know how they are getting along. How are the folks at home? I hope you are all well. I don't expect to get home for at least three months. I have had a better luck than I have had so far. I think they will be able to fix my leg so it will be just about as good as it ever was.

I only received one letter from you while I was in France, but you see, we moved so often that our mail never caught up to us.
When I got hit I never thought I would get marked disability, but I guess they knew the war was nearly over. I will send my address just as soon as we get to a hospital where we will stay for a while.

Willis.

News from Paul Jones.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jones received a letter from their son Paul, telling them he was in Base Hospital No. 11 in France. He had been gassed and was sent there for treatment. This letter was written Oct. 25. He said nothing had told them it would be "Heaven, Hell or Froboken by Christ-mas," but they thought he had his date set a little early. In his letter he also told that Edith had received a slight wound in his side, having probably been hit by a piece of shrapnel, but a severe wound for he worked half a day before he was removed. They had taken many German prisoners, all young fellows, well dressed and looking like anything but starved. They were well equipped for about every one of them had a machine gun.

Word Received from Prof. Sherman.
Local friends received word from Ivan Sherman, a former instructor in the Evansville High school and who left school here to enter service, telling of his arrival and his work in France. He was enjoying his work—Signal service—and also enjoying the privilege of seeing France.

Mrs. Siff Receives Word from Her Son.
Mrs. Amelia Siff received a communication from the government telling of the extent of the injuries received by her son Clarence. His nose was blown off and a bad wound leaving a scar on one side of his face. He has been sent back to hospital in the states for further treatment.

A Word of Commendation.
In order that due appreciation may be extended a number of parents, both fathers and mothers, wish to thank Everett Combs for his kindness in delivering mail that arrives on Sundays from their boys and sons who are in service. Mr. Combs is a clerk in the local postoffice and whenever a bunch of the mail from boys across the sea has come on Sunday which has happened a number of times he personally delivers the mail, so that the parents need not wait until Monday before receiving it. This kindness is greatly appreciated and proves that in these days of strife and trouble, heart touches heart with sympathy and kindness. This young man counted the cost of no effort, but a pleasure. The war cloud that has hovered over us for the past year and a half has developed the best there is in everyone and many an act of kindness has been done cheerfully and quietly. True there have been moments of doubt and suspicion, many times false judgments and deeds entered upon hastily, but at heart, there is sympathy and kindness directed from man to his fellow creatures in time of need. It is these acts of courtesy and kindness that make life worth living, and lingers always in the hearts of memory.

T. C. Sayles.

October 27, 1918.
This is Sunday but has been a busy day for me. We used to think of Sunday as a day to rest but here we make use of the time preparing for the next week's work. This is an officers' training school, so we work hard in order to make good and get our commission. I am glad to enter a training school here rather than back in the states and think it means much more to receive a commission here. I think I told you Howard Smith came with me. I have met several men here that I knew back in the states. Just as I started to write this letter a fellow blew in the room to see us who was in our battalion, back in Camp Grant, but was transferred out last spring. He brought us all a good American cigar which was certainly welcome. We are now able to buy chocolates and tobacco at the quartermasters here which just opened last week. However there are always so many there that it is extremely difficult to obtain any without waiting in line several hours. From the French we buy chocolate, fruit and sandwiches but they charge a good deal. They think the American soldier has lots of money. In dealing with them they get all excited and it takes some time to make a purchase. A Y. M. C. A. has opened here and I intend to stop over there. I hear they are to have some kind of a program.

We are suffering no hardships and all are feeling fine. I am in the very best of health and getting plenty of exercise. When we get back we will know a whole lot better how to live. I certainly look forward to the time I get right back home and when I do get there I sure am going to take advantage of it. After going through what we have here one realizes the comforts he had at home.

I have not heard from any of you for a long time, in fact, only two letters since I have been over here. I am looking forward to a bunch of letters any day now. You do not realize what a letter means to one here.

However I know you are all just as anxious to hear from us. Do not worry about me if my letters do not come regular as they are held up in many cases or lost but I trust the most of them reach you.
I suppose the rest of the boys will be called in this next draft. There cannot be many young fellows left about Janesville now. When I was there it seemed as if most of them had gone. I certainly had it soft remaining at Grant as long as I did. I realize now all the advantages we had there after being over here.

WORKMEN ARE PREPARING MAGNIFICENT "HALL OF MIRRORS" IN HISTORIC VERSAILLES PALACE FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

"Hall of Mirrors" in Versailles palace, where king of Prussia was crowned German emperor in 1871.

Late dispatches from Paris state that workmen are preparing the Palace of Versailles for the sessions of the world peace conference. These dispatches also state that the general sessions will be held in the magnificent "Hall of Mirrors" in the palace. The hall is a great corridor, 240 feet long, thirty-five feet wide, and the arched ceiling is forty-two feet high. Seventeen large arched windows along one side look out on the historic gardens. Opposite the windows in the hall are seventeen beveled mirrors set in the wall. The floor is of rich Italian material.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.
Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.
This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1894 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation.

LOOK OUT
The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Doctor," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible for a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.
Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with the results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

MICHIGAN AGGIES START FOR MADISON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 27.—The Michigan Aggies left here early today for Madison, Wis., where they are scheduled to wind up the football season tomorrow with the University of Wisconsin. The team is said to be in excellent condition, none of the regulars suffering injuries in the Michigan game Saturday.

What To Give For Christmas? Had you thought of giving The Gazette as a Christmas gift? Many people do and thus solve the sometimes perplexing problem of what to give. A Gazette subscription for a year makes a mighty acceptable gift, because it covers a broad field of interest: City News, World News, Market Reports, Features, and Store News. A daily subscription for one year's cost $4.00 in Rock County and trade territory. Outside of that zone the price is $6.00 per year.

SAFETY FIRST

INVEST YOUR SAVINGS IN INTERSTATE FARM MORTGAGES

Interstate Mortgages are Good Mortgages Because:

First—When you buy an Interstate Mortgage you buy a cash money loan. The mortgage notes represent dollar for dollar of our own money loaned to farmers after a careful investigation of their farms and we have had over thirty years' successful experience.

Second—The loans have an ample margin of security, conservatively estimated.

Third—The farms are personally inspected by competent experts.

Fourth—Every title is guaranteed under seal and an abstract goes with each loan.

Fifth—The interest is six per cent net to you. We collect and remit both interest and principal, attend to renewals of insurance, payment of taxes by borrowers, and all other details without any charge to you whatever, so long as the loans are in force.

Our farm mortgages offer a safe and profitable investment. The farm mortgage always stands out as the one dependable security, fundamentally sound and indestructible—war and panic proof.
